

YOUTH PHILANTHROPY CONNECT
PRESENTS

----- YOUTH PHILANTHROPY -----

----- ON THE ROAD -----

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE * SEATTLE, WA

10.17.15

NAME: _____

ABOUT US

Youth Philanthropy Connect (YPC) is a youth-led, new and exciting way for youth involved in philanthropic work to connect and learn through a peer network. This special project of the Frieda C. Fox Family Foundation connects youth engaged in philanthropy with their peers and colleagues, and provides educational programs and peer networks that advance youth involvement in philanthropy and develop the personal and professional skills of the next generation philanthropic leaders.

WELCOME!

The Planning Committee of Youth Philanthropy on the Road welcomes you to the Northwest Conference!

We are so excited to be a part of this gathering and can't wait to meet all of you!

Our planning committee, made up of nearly 20 adult and youth supporters of youth philanthropy, has worked over the phone, email, and web conference to create today's program.

We hope you leave with new perspectives, exciting ideas, helpful takeaways, and new friends and colleagues to add to your ever-growing network of support for your philanthropy.

Thanks to our families and foundations for supporting our work and encouraging us to give back. Enjoy the day, and we look forward to talking with each and every one of you!

Sincerely,
The Northwest Planning Committee

READING THE SCHEDULE

Whether you are 8 years old or 88, a seasoned grantmaker or a beginner, we have a session for you! The symbols below will guide you in selecting your sessions!

If you are between the ages of 8 and 12, check out the “Early Explorer” track! This track is a great opportunity for youth to engage with speakers, stories, and each other.

If you are between 12 and 24, this group will have 2 different sessions to choose from, with a 101 introductory session and a more advanced 201 session targeting youth who have already engaged in grant making.

If you are a Parent, Grandparent or Adult, look for the “Adult” symbol. Grow with other adults supporting their youth in philanthropy, better understand how to support the youth in your life in helping others, and build their leadership and skills!

9:30 am

INTRODUCTIONS & ICEBREAKER: rolePLAY

Led by Luke Sturtz, Dekko Foundation

We will kick off the day with important details and an opportunity to engage with others, while also having fun! We will use a new tool called rolePLAY released this month by YPC & 21/64. As we play together, we will learn about our giving identities and how we bring our best selves to helping the world!

10:00 am

PANEL OF PHILANTHROPY MODELS

Explore lots of innovative and exciting models for youth philanthropy all in one place! Meet philanthropists from across the Northwest region as they share their expertise in engaging youth and giving. Speakers will share information about their programs and then open up the floor for questions and discussion.

Facilitated by Katherine Scott, Youth Philanthropy Connect

- Amanda Dillon, Foundation Center
- Ashley Rodriguez, Youth Funding Youth Ideas, & Jillian Wu, BLING, a program of Youth Leadership Institute
- Jacqueline and Nicolas Way, 365 Give
- Kylie Semel, & Sarah Saltzman, Junior Board Members, Frieda C. Fox Family Foundation

11:15 am

LEARNING BREAKOUT SESSIONS I

I Changed the World Today

Facilitated by Jacqueline Way, 365give

What if you had the ability to change the world in just 5 minutes? It doesn't take long to create a positive impact on the planet, wildlife and people every day of the year. This short program will teach children how they can give every day in small and impactful ways. It's called The 365give Challenge and together we will educate, empower and inspire youth to be philanthropists.

101: Passion, Purpose, and Impact: How to Put it All Together

Facilitated by Peter Drury & Whitney Webb,
Independent Means

Join Peter and Whitney from Independent Means for activities and brainstorming that will help you connect your values and passions to a successful giving strategy. Focusing on a variety of ways to make a difference in the world, you will begin to understand the ins and outs of philanthropy and how it fits in to your life and the world around you.

The Foundation Center is making a hub of resources for youth philanthropy. Add yourself to the map & talk to Amanda Dillon to learn more!

201: Social Justice Philanthropy

Facilitated by Jillian Wu, BLING, a program of Youth Leadership Institute; Raquel Barajas, Gordon Phung, Ashley Rodriguez, Youth Funding Youth Ideas

BLING and YFYI of San Francisco have partnered up to bring you into the world of non-traditional giving. Our models are challenging the way youth-led philanthropy is done, using city funding for local change and letting young people lead the way. Our workshop is filled with engaging and fun activities with an opportunity to examine alternative ways of funding, through a social justice lens. You'll walk away with a handy tool-kit, a great experience and food for thought.

201: Careers and Next Steps in Philanthropy, a Moderated Panel

Facilitated by:

Lindsay Morgan Tracy, United Way of Pierce County;
Austin McNamee, Social Venture Partners Seattle & Microsoft;
Rachel Gelman, Resource Generation & Catalyst Project;
Chitra Hanstad, The Seattle Foundation;
Angie Hong, National Center for Family Philanthropy

Spend time with these experts, who work or serve in the field, to hear about how they have integrated philanthropy in their everyday lives. Come learn with these amazing individuals and ask them your top questions about giving, careers, and next steps in philanthropy! Future donors, board members, nonprofit and philanthropic employees or curious youth are welcome!

Don't forget to check out all the cool resources!
Take a picture with fun props & a selfie stick, check out youth philanthropy resources, and add your ordinary philanthropy hero!

Tools and Tips Exchange

Facilitated by Jonathan Marker, Youth Leadership Institute & Greg Reneris, The Seattle Foundation

In this highly interactive session, you will have a chance to explore tools, tips, and solutions for the areas that challenge you most when engaging youth in philanthropy. Connect with others in the trenches to share what's working and what's not, as well as favorite resources and vital lessons for helping youth. You'll also hear about relevant resources from three organizations focused on strengthening the field of philanthropy.

12:30 pm

LUNCHTIME KEYNOTE: THE ROLE OF EQUITY IN PHILANTHROPY

In this thought-provoking session, Vu will lead a discussion on philanthropy and how it affects communities of color. While philanthropy is intended to bring resources to communities that need them the most, oftentimes the systems and processes that exist unintentionally leave out these same communities. We will examine the differences between Equity and Equality, discuss the challenges with concrete examples and stories, and brainstorm potential solutions.

Vu Lee

Author, Nonprofits with Balls

Executive Director, Rainier Valley Corps

@Nonprofitwballs

Vu is an accomplished speaker, writer, and Executive Director of a start-up nonprofit with the mission of developing and supporting leaders of color to strengthen the capacity of communities-of-color-led nonprofits and foster collaboration between diverse communities to effect systemic change. Vu's passion to make the world better drove him into the field of nonprofit work, where he learned that we should take the work seriously, but not ourselves. He is well-known for his honest approach, irreverent sense of humor, and love of unicorns.

1:45 pm

LEARNING BREAKOUT SESSIONS II

The YPC Giving Circle

Facilitated by Youth Philanthropy Connect Staff & Sammie Holzwarth, Foundant Technologies

For our youth participants age 8-24, this breakout session will turn into a Giving Circle! There, the youth will be introduced to the grant making cycle and learn from each other's experiences using different processes. From there, they will work together to create criterion for reviewing the finalists' proposals to determine the final grants. See more information in the minigrant.

Purpose on page 22.

Giving Well: How to Mentor Kids for Sustainable Impact

Facilitated by Peter Drury & Whitney Web, Independent Means, Mark Larimer, Foundant Technologies

Peter Drury and Whitney Webb of Independent Means will lead a discussion on the complex philanthropic world that today's youth are growing up in, and how families can mentor the next generation to learn, grow, and steward assets responsibly. Mark Larimer will then share the skills learned through grantmaking that set-up youth for a great future.

Looking for opportunities to lead in youth philanthropy, connect with peers, and have fun?

MICROGRANT PURPOSE

Nonprofits were asked to submit proposals that demonstrate the effectiveness in engaging youth who play integral roles in these nonprofits.

This is a competitive round of grant funding of up to $2,000. Grant funds may be used to help develop and formalize your youth board; provide professional development to teen advisors (such as attending a grant writing class or nonprofit conference or retreat); sponsor a special youth-led project; provide challenge grant funding for a youth board fundraising activity; or another project that will engage youth and advance their formal roles within the organization. We encouraged, but did not require, youth to work with staff on completing this application.

RESOURCES

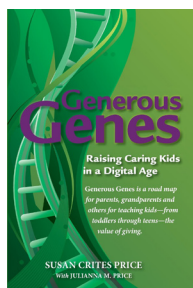

Teen Philanthropy Café Readers,
Developed by Exponent Philanthropy
www.exponentphilanthropy.org

This series introduces young people to strategic, thoughtful philanthropy, and inspires them toward giving with impact. Families and adults who work with youth can use these guides to facilitate peer discussions and fun activities around giving. Youth can use these guides to learn in depth about seven topics and start conversations with experienced philanthropists!

Igniting the Spark:
Creating Effective Next Generation Boards
www.fcfox.org/next-gen-info

This Issue Brief developed by the National Center for Family Philanthropy and Youth Philanthropy Connect introduces an increasingly popular method for preparing the next generation for philanthropic service: the next generation or junior board.

Generous Genes: Raising Caring Kids in a Digital Age by Susan Crites Price
www.generousgenes.com

This book is a road map for parents, grandparents and others who want to teach kids—from 2 to 20—to live compassionately. This indispensable guide is full of practical advice, inspiring stories and resources to help adults encourage children to share their time, talent, treasure...and ties.

www.2164.net

At 21/64, they understand the unique skills and perspectives the next generation can bring to the philanthropic community. However, the prospect of engaging the next generation can be daunting. They also have a variety of different tools available to help youth begin to think about philanthropy.

Talk About Giving

www.talkaboutgiving.org

Talk About Giving is an initiative developed by the Central Carolina Community Foundation to encourage multi-generational conversation about philanthropy. The program is designed for families who have a desire to pass along to their children and grandchildren a healthy understanding of the need to give to others.

Phil and His Family's Adventures in Giving

www.ypin.org

Recognizing a need for more family-focused resources, the Youth Philanthropy Initiative of Indiana (YPII) developed Phil and His Family's Adventures in Giving. This imaginative and creative resource "Gift Box" is designed to help families incorporate the spirit of generosity into their everyday lives. Through characters, stories, and activities philanthropy comes to life in a way that is fun and understandable.

RESOURCES

Learning to Give

www.learningtogive.org

Learning to Give equips K-12 teachers to educate students as philanthropists with knowledge, skills, and action to make a better world. They connect students' civic lives to academic learning. They offer lesson plans that incorporate philanthropy into the state standards.

Learning By Giving

www.learningbygivingfoundation.org

Students + Donors = Learning by Giving. The Learning by Giving Foundation distributes philanthropic capital to community nonprofits while teaching the next generation about effective charitable giving. Over 20,000 students have been a part of Learning by Giving since the start of the program over a decade ago. They even offer a MOOC (Massive Open Online Course) that individuals can participate in for free.

GrantCraft

www.grantcraft.org

GrantCraft combines the practical wisdom of funders worldwide with the expertise of Foundation Center to improve the practice of philanthropy. Since 2001, GrantCraft has delivered the knowledge funders need to be strategic and effective in their work, addressing questions funders face across various strategies and issue areas.
