YOUTH PHILANTHROPY CONNECT

PRESENTS

--- YOUTH PHILANTHROPY ---

--- ON THE ROAD ---

NORTHEAST CONFERENCE • NEW YORK, NY

6.14.15

NAME: _______________________________
Youth Philanthropy Connect (YPC) is a youth-led, new and exciting way for youth involved in philanthropic work to connect and learn through a peer network. This special project of the Frieda C. Fox Family Foundation connects youth engaged in philanthropy with their peers and colleagues, and provides educational programs and peer networks that advance youth involvement in philanthropy and develop the personal and professional skills of the next generation philanthropic leaders.

We are pleased to partner with the Johnson Center, an academic center at Grand Valley State University, who puts research to work, with and for professionals across the country. On June 15th and 16th, the Johnson Center is convening the National Summit on Family Philanthropy, a highly interactive and focused biennial national gathering of current and next generation family donors, as well as staff, advisors, and researchers who work to help families become more effective philanthropists. The Summit creates a space for family donors and national thought-leaders to engage in candid, peer-to-peer dialogue, learning, and networking.
WELCOME!
The Planning Committee of Youth Philanthropy on the Road welcomes you to the Northeast Conference!

We are so excited to be a part of this gathering and can’t wait to meet all of you!

Our planning committee, made up of 20 adult and youth supporters of youth philanthropy, has worked over the phone, email, web conference, and in person to create today’s program.

We hope you leave with new perspectives, exciting ideas, helpful takeaways, and new friends and colleagues to add to your ever-growing network of support for your philanthropy.

Thanks to our families and foundations for supporting our work and encouraging us to give back. Enjoy the day, and we look forward to talking with each and every one of you!

Sincerely,
The Northeast Planning Committee

All Classrooms receive natural light, and are divided by windowed garage doors. Sample room configurations. All furniture is mobile.
Whether you are 8 years old or 88, a seasoned grantmaker or a beginner, we have a session for you! The symbols below will guide you in selecting your sessions!

If you are between the ages of 8 and 12, check out the “Early Explorer” track! This track is a great opportunity for youth to engage with speakers, stories, and each other.

If you are between 12 and 21, this group will have 2 different sessions to choose from, with a 101 introductory session and a more advanced 201 session targeting youth who have already engaged in grant making.

If you are a Parent, Grandparent or Adult, look for the “Adult” symbol. Grow with other adults supporting their youth in philanthropy, better understand how to support the youth in your life in helping others, and build their leadership and skills!

LEARNING BREAKOUT SESSIONS I

Youth Philanthropy 101
Facilitated by Jill Gordon, Youth Philanthropy Initiative of Indiana

This interactive workshop focuses on the impact that youth can have in their community and identifies they ways you can share your time, talent, and treasure. Fun, hands-on activities and engaging discussions will help early explorers understand how they can make a difference and be a philanthropist in today’s world. Attendees will explore their own personal values and learn more about philanthropy within their communities.
101: What Are The Causes I Care About and What Can I Do About Them?
Facilitated by Michal Levine, Areyvut

How are YOU interested in helping the world and your community to become a better place? During this session you will learn more about different ways you can use your passion for good and change to benefit the community, while having fun! This is a great session for those newer to philanthropy.

201: Social Justice: How to Be the Change You Want to See?
Facilitated by Katrina D. Mitchell and Masiel Rodriguez-Vars, Andrus Family Fund

This session will give participants a first-hand experience with grant making using a social justice model. Participants will be able to use real life examples of how social justice and philanthropy are connected and explore how they can use their personal passions to be a change maker in their community.

Troubleshoot Youth Engagement & Empowering Youth to Lead
Facilitated by Sabrina Evans Ellis, Youth Development Institute

Come share your successes and lessons learned, while troubleshooting how to best empower and lift up youth in your work or family. In this session, you will learn from an expert and your experienced peers about how to support the growth and development of the young people you serve, while enhancing the experience for youth. Young people all experience the world differently, while also developing rapidly. Learn how to maximize opportunities for the youth you serve.
AGENDA, JUNE 14th

Full speaker bios can be found at fcfox.org/newyork

12:10 pm
LUNCH & FACILITATED CONVERSATIONS

Join these amazing individuals over lunch to learn about a specific topic and their philanthropic journey! Conversations will be informal with each speaker sharing briefly and then taking questions and opening for discussion.

1. Jason Franklin, Giving Boldly, Opportunities to Create Change
2. Sarah Maine, Independent Means, Relationships in the Context of Wealth
5. Youth ROCKstar: Elijah Washington, Founder of Youth Giving Back

1:45 - 3:00 pm
LEARNING BREAKOUT SESSIONS II

Grantmaking Process
Facilitated by Youth Philanthropy Connect Staff & Sammie Holzwarth, Foundant Technologies

For our youth participants age 8-21, this breakout session will turn into a Giving Circle! There, the youth will be introduced to the grant making cycle and learn from each other’s experiences using different processes. From there, they will work together to create criterion for reviewing the finalists’ proposals to determine the final grants. See more details on page 20.
Driving Impact Through Effective Youth-Adult Partnerships & Grantmaking Return on Investment

Bistro Tables
Facilitated by Dan Horgan, D.G. Horgan Group & Mark Larimer, Foundant Technologies

This hands-on session engages adult participants in strengthening their ability to build, manage and sustain effective youth-adult partnerships with a focus on advancing youth philanthropy initiatives. Participants will be engaged in interactive exercises that they can repurpose in their work with youth as well as lively small and large group discussions on effective practices. The session is packed full of tangible tools and resources to set participants up for success in evolving youth leadership skills and facilitating meaningful community exploration and investments of time, talent and treasure.

4:00 pm
OPTIONAL GELATO TRIP TO CHELSEA MARKET!

After we close, please join members of our planning committee for a walk to Chelsea Market for Gelato at L’Arte Del Gelato. This is an optional activity and will be a beautiful walk outside, so join us for the walk and/or gelato! Please bring cash or credit card. Gelato is $6.

MICROGRANT PURPOSE

The Youth Review Committee selected these compelling proposals that demonstrate the effectiveness in engaging youth who play integral roles in these nonprofits.

This is a competitive round of grant funding of up to $2,500. Grant funds may be used to help develop and formalize your youth board; provide professional development to teen advisors (such as attending a grant writing class or nonprofit conference or retreat); sponsor a special youth-led project; provide challenge grant funding for a youth board fundraising activity; or another project that will engage youth and advance their formal roles within the organization. We encouraged, but did not require, youth to work with staff on completing this application.

--- ON THE ROAD ---
Teen Philanthropy Café Readers,
Developed by Exponent Philanthropy
www.exponentphilanthropy.org

This series introduces young people to strategic, thoughtful philanthropy, and inspires them toward giving with impact. Families and adults who work with youth can use these guides to facilitate peer discussions and fun activities around giving. Youth can use these guides to learn in depth about seven topics and start conversations with experienced philanthropists!

Igniting the Spark:
Creating Effective Next Generation Boards
www.fcfox.org/next-gen-info

This Issue Brief developed by the National Center for Family Philanthropy and Youth Philanthropy Connect introduces an increasingly popular method for preparing the next generation for philanthropic service: the next generation or junior board.

Generous Genes: Raising Caring Kids in a Digital Age by Susan Crites Price
www.generousgenes.com

This book is a road map for parents, grandparents and others who want to teach kids—from 2 to 20—to live compassionately. This indispensable guide is full of practical advice, inspiring stories and resources to help adults encourage children to share their time, talent, treasure…and ties.
At 21/64, they understand the unique skills and perspectives the next generation can bring to the philanthropic community. However, the prospect of engaging the next generation can be daunting. They also have a variety of different tools available to help youth begin to think about philanthropy.

Talk About Giving
www.talkaboutgiving.org

Talk About Giving is an initiative developed by the Central Carolina Community Foundation to encourage multi-generational conversation about philanthropy. The program is designed for families who have a desire to pass along to their children and grandchildren a healthy understanding of the need to give to others.

Phil and His Family’s Adventures in Giving
www.ypin.org

Recognizing a need for more family-focused resources, the Youth Philanthropy Initiative of Indiana (YPII) developed Phil and His Family’s Adventures in Giving. This imaginative and creative resource “Gift Box” is designed to help families incorporate the spirit of generosity into their everyday lives. Through characters, stories, and activities philanthropy comes to life in a way that is fun and understandable.
Learning to Give
www.learningtogive.org

Learning to Give equips K-12 teachers to educate students as philanthropists with knowledge, skills, and action to make a better world. They connect students’ civic lives to academic learning. They offer lesson plans that incorporate philanthropy into the state standards.

Learning By Giving
www.learningbygivingfoundation.org

Students + Donors = Learning by Giving. The Learning by Giving Foundation distributes philanthropic capital to community nonprofits while teaching the next generation about effective charitable giving. Over 20,000 students have been a part of Learning by Giving since the start of the program over a decade ago. They even offer a MOOC (Massive Open Online Course) that individuals can participate in for free.

GrantCraft
www.grantcraft.org

GrantCraft combines the practical wisdom of funders worldwide with the expertise of Foundation Center to improve the practice of philanthropy. Since 2001, GrantCraft has delivered the knowledge funders need to be strategic and effective in their work, addressing questions funders face across various strategies and issue areas.
