YOUTH PHILANTHROPY CONNECT

Our mission at Youth Philanthropy Connect (YPC) is to connect youth grantmakers and the adults who support them to each other, to resources, and learning. YPC is supported by the Frieda C. Fox Family Foundation in an effort to scale the impact that the Foundation's own Junior Board had seen through connecting with other youth grantmakers. We are inspiring, serving, and helping the next generation of youth philanthropists, who we know are changing the world now and will continue to be future changemakers for social good! We are the only national program that convenes youth funders across experiences and backgrounds to connect and learn together.

With sessions geared towards youth ages 8-21 and their adult advisors, by age and experience level, conference participants will connect with their peers, share models of youth engagement, learn best practices in philanthropy, and work collaboratively in a unique learning environment created across generations. Make the most of your YPC experience with plenary sessions, networking & teambuilding opportunities, the YPC Giving Circle, workshop sessions, time in Disneyland, and more!

2016 workshop sessions will cover topics such as Philanthropy 101, Diverse Youth Inclusion, telling your philanthropic story, empathy, social justice philanthropy, Philanthropy ROCKstars for all ages, a special track for our youngest attendees (ages 8-12), and more!
