

Announcing Conference Theme and Learning Objectives

Youth Philanthropy Connect is proud to announce the theme for our 3rd Annual Conference:

Unleashing the Potential of Youth Philanthropy

Our Conference Objectives are to:

- Learn about other youth philanthropy models
- Connect with other philanthropists
- Identify ideas to take home which will enhance existing philanthropic endeavors
- Find new ways to work together in our own communities
- Determine the most effective ways to influence change

The full conference agenda will be available in the coming month. Learn more about the Conference and Registration.

Announcing Plenary Speaker,

Jen Bokoff

Youth Philanthropy Connect is proud to announce that Jen Bokoff will be joining us as the Keynote Speaker for the Opening Plenary on June 20, 2013.

Jen Bokoff is a connector, blogger, storyteller, and people-watcher. As the Laurie M. Tisch Illumination Fund's Program Officer, Jen oversees grants administration, office operations, and special events. She also manages the foundation's online presence and conducts grant research. A graduate of Tufts University, Jen studied community health and sociology and spent two years involved in the Learning by Giving philanthropy program. She continues to be involved with the university through service on the Alumni Council. Prior to working for the Illumination Fund, Jen was a paralegal specialist for the Internal Revenue Service and client advocate for LIFT, an anti-poverty nonprofit. She currently serves as the Co-President of Young Friends of Tufts Advancement, teaches professional development courses at the Brooklyn Brainery, and is learning the fine art of improv comedy. She blogs across the internet with contributions to Huffington Post, Dowser, the Grants Managers Network blog, and anything else that comes her way. Jen can be found on Twitter @jenbo1 and otherwise at jenbokoff.com.

Conference Sponsorship

Youth Philanthropy Connect thanks The Tarsadia Foundation and Foundant Technologies for their continued support as sponsors!

We are still seeking sponsors for our Annual Conference. If you or your organization work with family foundations, community foundations, school philanthropy programs, or just believe in supporting leadership development for young future philanthropists and tomorrow's nonprofit leaders, there is a sponsorship level and opportunity that will align with your goals!

See you in Las Vegas!

Youth Philanthropy Connect will join Enlightened Philanthropy on a panel discussing youth philanthropy at the Advisors in Philanthropy conference Friday, April 26. Please let us know if you plan to attend so we can connect!

Report from the Council on Foundations Family Philanthropy Conference

Youth Philanthropy Connect hosted a Dine-Around at the Council on Foundations Family Philanthropy Conference on January 28th in San Jose, CA! Attendees learned about the Jewish Teen Foundations youth philanthropy program for Bay Area Jewish teens (9th-11th grade) from Teen Foundation leader, Ellie Lauder, Sue Schwartman, and Monica Pevzner (pictured above L-R). Amy Johnson and Teen Participant Julia Weingart shared about the Silicon Valley Social Venture Fund \(SV2\) Teen Philanthropy Program facilitated by Classrooms for Change. The dinner discussions were lively as attendees shared their youth philanthropy experience and how the programs that presented could inform family foundation youth philanthropy work! Thank you to all who joined.
